

You want a partner you can depend on.
We're here for you.

For over 25 years, TRITECHFORENSICS has partnered with law enforcement and crime lab personnel, providing state-of-the-art investigation products from custom DNA Specimen Collection Kits to fuming chambers to forensic light sources.

When you call us, you'll get a live person, someone who will take the time to answer your questions and help you find the best product for your needs. No more wondering if a product will do what you need it to do.

Looking for a custom kit? We have a department exclusively dedicated to creating individualized kits, seals, bags, and other evidence collection products for agencies in North Carolina and around the world. And we do it one at a time, carefully listening to what you need and want, and crafting it into the perfect product for your team.

We've been chosen to carry exclusive product lines as well as your favorites, providing you with the opportunity to try new methods while keeping those items that you know will give you proven results.

You can trust us to be there when you need us. Give us a call.
